Reminder: We will be closed November 24th and 25th in observance of Thanksgiving.

The Infant Room has been exploring the many colors and sensory activities of Fall; pumpkin guts in a bag, crunching leaves, etc. Many of our younger friends are learning to roll over and even sit up. While the older friends are mastering to pull themselves up and standing without help.

October in the Peach Room was full of fall & Halloween projects! For one of their sensory projects the class played with pumpkin guts. Absolutely none of the kids were thrilled with the fun. Everyday the class continues to learn with lots of books and songs. The children love to sit in front of the color and shape wall after every story time. We're very much looking forward to the holiday season! The class walls will continue to be full of bright artwork & pictures of sensory activities.

October in the Yellow Room was filled with lots of fun! The children have been busy learning colors and relating them to everyday objects.. For example the color red, then asking the child what in the room is the color red. The class spent most of the month exploring the color orange and preparing for Halloween. The children loved all of the Halloween sensory projects; candy corn, big monster eyes, rice and pumpkin guts.

In October the Green Room friends went on an adventure walk searching for different kinds of leaves. The class learned about why leaves change colors and what colors maple, oak and cotton wood leaves change to in fall. During transportation week the children put wheels on cars, had smoke puffing out of trains, boats floating in the baby pool, and big yellow school buses all around the room. The class made scary siders, cats, silly scarecrows, pumpkins, and candy corn guys! The class learned songs about fall leaves and five little pumpkins on a windy night. During the month of November the class will learn all about the first Thanksgiving and being thankful.

In October we welcomed Ms. Traci to our Blue Room. We are very excited to have her join our team, and excited to see what she bring to our Pre-K class! So far in October the class has learned about the changing of the season and why the leaves fall. They also worked on a color mixing learning primary and secondary colors. For their Halloween theme the children worked on their scissor skills and ability to follow the lines on the paper. In November the class will be working on fine motor development to help with writing in the future. Also be watching for more science projects in the class room, Ms. Traci and Ms. Hannah have some fun projects planned!!
